

The Mark

Photographer Maroesjka Lavigne explores the fragile balance between men and natural elements. Her pictures frame the glorious loneliness we experience amidst majestic sceneries, and the way us humans tend to leave a mark everywhere we go -like absurd, stubborn aliens trying to prove a point...

MY BELOVED MESS

Mud-splattered boots, unmade bed, scraps of scribbled paper that could be the start of a fantasy novel (or not), something shiny, riding hat, and ABSURD thrift store finds hidden in plain sight. A warning to anyone wishing to follow in my footsteps: don't trip over the TRAIL of glorious mess I make!
